

Prime Time

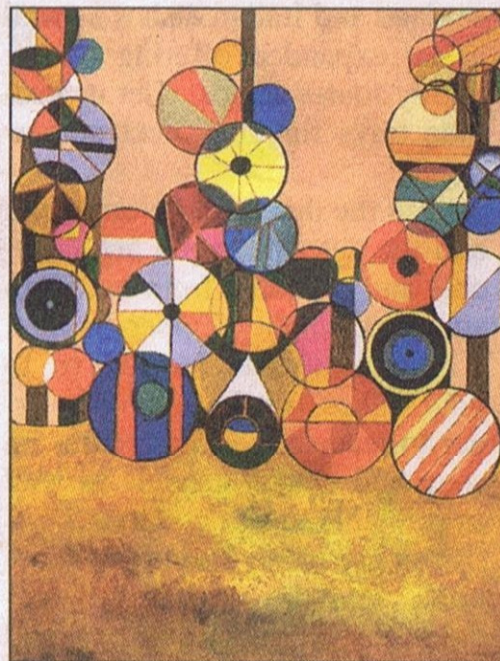

Entertainment & Dining Guide of Suburban News

Cranford artist's work selected for national juried exhibition

CRANFORD — Cranford Artist, Theodosia A.G. Tamborlane, has been selected to exhibit her work in a national juried exhibition at the Florida West Arts Gallery in Bonita Springs, Florida. As reported by Gallery Director, Patrick Distasio, from the hundreds of art works entered, artists were selected from 15 states, with Tamborlane being the only artist selected from New Jersey. The exhibit is open through Dec. 16 at the gallery, at 25987 S. Tamiani Trail in Bonita Springs, which is near Naples, Florida.

The use of dynamic colors and the expression of movement are hallmarks of Tamborlane's oil on canvas paintings. The colors are chosen and personally mixed by her for each painting to express a spiritual contact with nature. Many of her paintings explore life as a unique and significant journey during which a person has opportunities to be one with nature and to work for peace and progress or, voluntarily or involuntarily, to support activities which dimin-

'Bouquet in Grandma's Bowl'

ish or destroy our world.

One of Tamborlane's paintings selected for the exhibition, "Ombrello's Nature's World," (48 by 36 inches in size) compels one to acknowledge the majesty of the world from its deep, rock laden core to the heavens above. Another selected work, "Bouquet in Grandma's Bowl, Fleurs des Temps," (32 by 27 inches in size) challenges the viewer to see the exquisite geometry present in various flowers which enhance our environment.

'Ombrello's Nature's World'

Tamborlane has her paintings in personal collections in the United States and the Netherlands. Her gallery is Simply Gallery in Cranford. She is a Selected Member of the New Century Artists Gallery and a Member of the Pen and Brush Gallery in New York City, the Contemporary Art Group of New Jersey, the Woodbridge Artisan Guild, and Studio Montclair. Tamborlane is currently affiliated with the Art Students League in New York City and can be reached at Tamborlane@aol.com or at Tamborlane.com or 908-276-4967.